Starlight Racing Report

Starlight Racing began 2017 with a thrilling third-place finish by Neolithic in the inaugural running of the $12 million Pegasus World Cup (G1). The sky is the limit with the four-year-old son of former Starlight Racing color-bearer Harlan's Holiday.

Graded stakes winner Uncle Vinny has retired to stud and will stand at Stonewall's Prestige Stallions. Uncle Vinny was the Florida champion two-year-old male in 2015 and we are looking forward to following his offspring on the track.

Starlight Racing has also unveiled several promising maiden winners - Coors Lute made his debut a winning one with a stylish victory at Gulfstream Park on January 22 and Psalmody earned a trip to the winner's circle on February 18.

Vinny White Shoes

Vinny White Shoes was the model of consistency in his brief career on the racetrack and was on the board in four of his five starts. Now, that consistency is translating to a successful second career as a riding horse with an ever-growing fan club of children at the barn.

This great match was made possible by the work of New Vocations. Click here to read an interview with his new owner.
